

Calvert Woodley is Hiring

We're looking for a friendly, motivated and hard-working salesperson for our wine department, someone who's eager to join one of the largest and most well-known retail stores in the country. We stress customer service and a team concept.

Qualifications:

Superior customer service is as important, if not more so, than superior wine knowledge. Still must have good to excellent knowledge of wine and wine growing regions in general, but must be able to help a wide array of customers in a busy, fast paced store.

Submit your resume by emailing Michael Sands at michael@calvertwoodley.com. Please provide a sample wine review with your application.

Thank you.
